Note: Eligible voters are adult U.S. citizens. Figures do not sum up to population totals because other single-race and multiracial groups are not shown. Total population figures are rounded to the nearest 1,000. Whites, blacks and Asians are of a single race and include only non-Hispanics. Hispanics are of any race. Proficient English speakers are those who say they speak only English at home or speak English at least "very well." States shown are ranked by the size of their immigrant eligible voter populations.
